A colorful cartoon illustration of two characters at a service counter. On the left, a man dressed as Uncle Sam wears a blue top hat with white stars and a red and white striped band. He has curly orange hair and is holding a calculator and some money. On the right, a woman with blue hair tied up in a bun and a red and white polka-dot dress is looking at him. She has a surprised or confused expression. They are standing behind a white counter with a cash register and a pink cloth. In the background, there's a blue chair and some abstract shapes.
